The allotment of seats to the Reserved Categories will strictly be in accordance with the Rules and regulations laid down by the State and the University from time to time.

Mandatory Reservations will always be honoured and no violation in this regard will ever be entertained.

SABS Educational Policy which guided the intake of students before the Centralised Allotment Process ensured that justice and fairness prevailed. This Policy also clearly stated that the marginalised and the socially, educationally or economically disadvantaged should not be denied seats on any ground whatsoever and they be admitted even in the general seats subject to conditions of availability and this was the Policy followed by the College since the Year of its establishment.

The College is committed to social justice and no discrimination whatsoever will be practised in admission or appointment.

The College welcomes students and staff belonging to all walks of society and no one will be barred access on the basis of class, caste, race or such other narrow and parochial considerations.

In all aforementioned matters the current rules of the affiliating University and the directives of the State shall be binding.
